HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THURSDAY, Nov. 30th 1865.

The Speaker called the House to order pursuant to adjournment. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Bird, of the Presbyterian Church.

The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

The resolution introduced yesterday, to send a message to the Senate proposing to raise a joint committee of five on the part of the House and three on the part of the Senate, to report joint rules for the government of the two Houses during the session, was taken up and adopted. The Speaker appointed on the part of the House, Messrs. Waugh, Jenkins of Warren, Henry, Baxter, and Wilson.

Mr. Russell introduced the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, There are numerous indications that a large portion of the people of the Northern States of this Union have been led to believe that the people of North Carolina are not well disposed towards the general government; and whereas, it appears from a telegram from His Excellency, the President of the United States, to the Provisional Governor of this State, published in the Standard newspaper, of the 29th inst., that His Excellency has been misinformed as to the views and sentiments of the people of North Carolina, and especially as regards the issues involved in the late election of this State; and whereas, it is right and proper that this General Assembly should correct, as far as may be in its power, such erroneous impressions and vindicate the character of the State, therefore be it

Resolved, That the people of North Carolina have accepted the terms offered them by the President of the United States, and complied with all the conditions laid down by him as necessary to restore our practical constitutional relations with the other States of this Union, and that they have done so in good faith and with the intention and determination to preserve and maintain them.

Resolved, That the people of North Carolina are loyal to the Government of the United States, and are ready to make any concessions, not inconsistent with their honor and safety, for the restoration of that harmony upon which their prosperity and security depends.

Resolved, That we have confidence in the ability, integrity and impartiality of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, and that in behalf of the people of North Carolina we hereby return our thanks to him for the kindness, liberality and magnanimity which he has displayed towards us.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to His Excellency, the President of the United States, and to the Congress, when it shall assemble.

Mr. Jenkins, of Warren, advocated the immediate adoption of the resolutions. He thought they expressed the sentiments of the entire people of North Carolina, and that being uttered as the earnest, spontaneous declaration of the people, would have the effect of removing from the minds of the President and the Northern people any erroneous opinions concerning the loyalty of the State to the Union and the Constitution.

Mr. Henry desired an opportunity to consider the resolutions with more deliberation; he deprecated hasty legislation upon a subject of such importance. These resolutions contemplated nothing less than the entire revolution of public sentiment at the North in regard to this State, and therefore they should be duly considered and acted on with that care becoming this dignified body. He moved that the resolutions lie on the table and be printed.

Mr. Blackner moved to amend, by referring the resolutions to a special committee of five, and that they be printed. The amendment was accepted by Mr. Henry. The motion was agreed to and Messrs. Russell, Blackmer, Jenkins, of Warren, Cameron and Henry, constituted the committee.

A message was received from the Senate proposing to go into the election of an additional Engrossing Clerk. The message was concurred in and Messrs. Simmons and Lyon appointed, on the part of the House, to superintend the election.

Mr. Sharpe withdrew the name of Mr. Jas. A. Moore.

Mr. Manly withdrew the name of Mr. Busbee.

The committee reported, whole number of votes 128; necessary to a choice 79, and that Mr. Barnes had received 50, Mr. Hampton 101, Mr. Busbee 4, and Mr. Page 3, and that Mr. Hampton was, therefore, elected, and the report was concurred in.

Hon. W. H. N. Smith, member elect from the county of Hertford, was qualified and took his sert.

A communication was received from His Excellency, the Provisional Governor, transmitting his message to the General Assembly, and the same being read.

Mr. McKay moved that it be transmitted to the Senate with a proposition to print 5 copies for each member of the two Houses, and it was so ordered.

A message was received from the Senate concurring in the proposition to print five copies of the Governor's message for each member of the General Assembly.

Mr. Waugh moved to send a message to the Senate proposing to go into the election of United States Senator, to fill the unexpired term of Hon. Thomas L. Clingman.

Mr. Jenkins of Granville, moved to amend by proposing to elect two United States Senators, and it was not agreed to.

The motion of Mr. Waugh was then adopted.

A message was received from the Senate proposing to go immediately into the election of three Judges of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Jenkins moved to lay the message on the table and asked for the yeas and nays. The motion did not prevail, yeas 38, nays 57.

NAYS—Messrs. Arrington, Barnett, Beasley, Black, Blair, Blythe, Boner, Bryson, Caldwell, Candler, Coates, Craige, Crawford, Davis of Carteret, Davis of Halifax, Dickey, Dunn, Faircloth of Green, Faircloth of Wayne, Flythe, Garland, Hamilton, Henry, Honston, Jenkins of Granville, Jones, Joyner, Kinney, Lee of Gates, Leigh of Tyrrell, Lucas, McAden, McDonald, McEachern, McGuire, Melson, Moore of Alamance, Moore of Chatham, Mott, Murrill, Newsom, Page, Potter, Roseboro, Russell, Simmons, Smith of Columbus, Smith of Guilford, Stilley, Scoggin, Thompson, Trull, Waugh, Webb, Wilson and York—57.

The proposition of the Senate was then concurred in, and Messrs. Blackmer and Jenkins of Warren were appointed to superintend the election on the part of the House.

Mr. Hutchinson nominated Hons. R. M. Pearson, Wm. H. Battle and M. E. Manly; Mr. Henry nominated Hon. E. G. Reade; Mr. Russell nominated Hon. B. F Moore; Mr. Blackmer nominated Hon. Nathaniel Boyden and Hon. R R. Heath, and Mr. Caldwell nominated Hon. W. N. H. Smith.

Mr. Murphy moved that the House adjourn to 10 o'clock to morrow morning and it was not agreed to.

A message was received from the Senate refusing to concur in the proposition to go into the election of U. S. Senator.

Also, a message concurring in the proposition to raise a joint committee on Rules.

Also, a message proposing to raise a joint committee to inquire into the condition of the railroads of the State, and the proposition was concurred in.

The committee to superintend the election of three Judges of the Supreme Court reported that there were 159 votes cast, necessary to election, 60; that Mr Pearson had received 138 votes; Mr. Battle 97; Mr. Reade 89; Mr. Manly 68; Mr. Moore 34; Mr. Smith 32; Mr. Boyden 15, and Mr. Heath 11; and that Messrs. Pearson, Battle and Reade, having received the requisite number of votes, were elected; and the report was received and concurred in.

Then, on motion of Mr. Russell, the House adjourned to 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

—Judge Richard Busteed, formerly of New York, and now presiding over the United States District Court of Alabama, has come into conflict with the military there, Gen. Wood having declined to obey a writ of habeas corpus issued by the Judge for the surrender to the civil authorities of S. C. Dexter, a Treasury cotton agent at Mobile, arrested and held for trial by court martial on a charge of malfeasance.—Subsequently the Judge ordered Gen. Wood to appear and show why he should not be proceeded against for contempt. The General still neither appearing nor responding, a writ of attachment against him, directed to the United States Marshal, was granted by the Judge and made returnable on the 11th of December proximo.

—A dispatch says the proprietors of all the higher-class gambling-houses in St. Louis held a meeting, and resolved that, in view of the prevalence of crime in the city, they would close their places for one week, and lend their services to the police in ferretting out and bringing to punishment the numerous bands of thieves, garroters, burglars, and cutthroats that infest the city.

FURS.—For many centuries the wearing of furs has been a favorite luxury among the wealthy and the fashionable. More than thirteen hundred years ago the skins of sables were brought to Rome from the shores of the Arctic Ocean, and sold at fabulous prices to the wealthy nobles of the Eternal City. Six hundred years latter, Marco Polo relates that he found the tent of the Khan of Tartary lined with costly furs procured from the far North—"the land of darkness." The taste for this elegant form of decorating garments rapidly increased, so that in England, so long ago as the reign of Edward III., that monarch thought it necessary to restrain the growing extravagance of his subjects by decreeing that no one should be permitted to use furs unless his income allowed an expenditure of £100 per annum. But there is no restriction now, and every lady—who can—supplies herself with the comfortable "fixins." The latest novelty in the fur line, is the satchel muff, which not only serves to keep the hands warm, but, on a pinch, will do to bring the marketing home in.

A PRINCELY DINING.—Like our neighbors of the "Standard," we were bid to dinner at the plentifully furnished board of Mrs. Frank I. Wilson, who keeps a boarding house at the old and familiar stand of John Hutchins, on Newbern street, east of the State house. It was not our good fortune to be present, however, so that we missed the intellectual feature, "the feast of reason and flow of soul." Not so with the substantials, as a descendant of Ham entered our sanctum freighted down with roast beef, shoat, turkey, baked chine, chicken pie, fresh fish, vegetables, handsomely fenced in with pies (delicious mince), custards, etc. It was a princely dinner in variety, quality and style—very much ahead of anything we have seen elsewhere. Mrs. W. has our thanks for seeing that, although we could not be present, we shared in the toothsome things.

We are not surprised to know that such an establishment has attracted a large number of our State legislators and we predict that, with modest charges and such entertainment, her vacant rooms will soon be filled.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Capt. Alfred Jones, of this county and residing about six miles from the city, suddenly expired yesterday while walking Fayetteville street. We understand his death was produced by appoplexy. Thus another one of our oldest and most respectable citizens has been gathered home. Few men were more highly prized for their display of those genial qualities which invest private life with half its charm. The deceased was a brother, we believe, of the late Wesley Jones, who filled the position of U. S. Marshal for the district of North Carolina.

MAXON & STRONG have in store a splendid stock of goods and we see by notice elsewhere that they have determined to knock high prices in the head. They are business men of liberal enterprise and fully able to do what they undertake.

A COMET VISIBLE.—Biela's comet, which is said to be now visible to the naked eye, may be seen in the neighborhood of the constellation Pegasus, and close to the bright star Markab, one of the bright luminaries which form the well known square of Pegasus. It is pursuing a southwesterly course, and will cross the celestial equator about the middle of December. It will continue to approach the earth until the end of February, when its distance from us will be only eighteen millions of miles.

AN ASSAULT.—Three white boys assaulted a negro man on Davie street yesterday afternoon and, with a brick-bat, gave him a severe cut on the head, causing profuse bleeding. The man cried out lustily for rescue from his assailants, the boys runs off, and the neighborhood, white and black, congregated to see what was in the wind. There was much excitement, considerable scare and very little damage. The assault, however, is said to have been unprovoked and therefore the parents of the unruly youngsters flogged them.

A HEAVY FROST carpeted earth and housetop yesterday morning, reminding all classes of our people of the cold of winter. It should have the effect of enlivening the sympathies of more fortunate people towards needy and suffering neighbors. Humanity and christianity alike demand that those who have and to spare shall be more liberal than for many years past. A larger number of widows, orphans, and other poor will be to look after and provide for than in the years by-gone—let us see that we do not shrink from duty in the premises.

ON DIT—That Gov. Holden and Hon. Wm. A. Graham will probably be chosen U. S. Senators by the present legislature. We mention it as a rumor prevalent in the city last night, without endorsing its accuracy; but we know of nothing which would probably do more to advance the cause of reconstruction than the selection of the provisional governor for the post indicated.

TO EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.—Expecting to get our new type here in a few days, we offer for sale a large portion of the type with which the PROGRESS is now printed. There is quite enough of it to run a large weekly or a small daily paper. This material will be sold low if immediate application be made.

WE are indebted to the Southern Express for late papers in advance of all other sources. It seems they are determined to keep up their old repute for doing things rapidly.

HAND IT IN—we mean the watch advertised this morning as lost. We hope it fell into the hands of an honest person.

Our Relations with France—The Mexican Question.

In a dispatch to the late Minister Dayton, the Secretary of State said "he might not improperly improve the occasion by remarking that the Executive Government of this country has no organ in the press, and its views and sentiments in regard to France, as to all other countries, can be known always by the language of its diplomatic representatives, for it instructs them minutely and directs them to speak always frankly and sincerely."

A short time before this communication was sent to Minister Dayton, Mr. Seward wrote to him: "The statements made to you by M. Drouyn De L'Huys, concerning the Emperor's intentions, are entirely satisfactory, if we are permitted to assume them as having been authorized to be made by the Emperor in view of the present condition of affairs in Mexico. It is true, as I have before remarked, that the Emperor's purpose may hereafter change with changing circumstances. We, ourselves, however, are not unobservant of the progress of events at home and abroad, and in no case are we likely to neglect such provision for our own safety, as every sovereign State must always be prepared to fall back upon when nations with which they have lived in friendship cease to respect their moral and treaty obligations. Your own discretion will be your guide as to how far and in what way the public interests will be promoted by submitting these views to the consideration of M. Drouyn L'Huys."

Here, then, is an official avowal of the position of our government with regard to the Mexican question, and it is in direct conflict with the filibustering proclivities of certain politicians and over-ardent military gentlemen. The Secretary of State, representing the opinion of his govenment, appears entirely satisfied with the attitude of the Emperor of the French, and we conclude that unless that functionary essays a degree of interference not heretofore assumed in Mexican affairs, war is not half so imminent as the sensation press represents.

The U. S. Senatorship.

The method by which the work of reconstruction is hindered, if not rendered impossible, is well reflected in the annexed extract from the Fayetteville News:

"This week the Legislature of North Carolina will doubtless elect two Senators to represent this State in the next Federal Congress, as its session will commence on the first Monday in December.

"While we shall be willing to see the State represented by any of her worthy sons, our preferences would lead us to desire the election of Zebulon B Vance and Thomas S. Ashe—both of whom would reflect honor on the State.

"The State of North Carolina should be careful to elect no one who does not present a fair and unblemished reputation for manly, patriotic and virtuous conduct in private and public life, and such men as W. W. Holden, Bedford Brown, Nathaniel Boyden, Josiah Turner, Lewis Haynes, R. P. Dick, Samuel F. Phillips, should be left out in the cold.—The men of North Carolina are those of her sons who were in the late Confederate cause heart and soul, and none but such should represent the old mother in Congress or elsewhere."

Here is a direct attack on the Provisional Governor and Hon. Bedford Brown, in the interest of ex-Gov. Vance, who is on parole and unpardoned. Such a spirit carries with it comment. It is the influence of such things upon the Union party of the country to which we may attribute the distrust with which our section is regarded. If we could concede that the design of papers like the News was not to foment discord, we should still insist that the effect of such propositions is to that end. Already the consequences of such injudicious suggestions has been to weaken our State's interests, and if persisted in it will soon happen that no one at the North—not even the President—will repose any degree of confidence in our professions of devotion to the Union and thorough acquiescence in the logic of the events of the war. If the people wish to beggar the State and utterly annihilate the prospect of restoration, they need only endorse extravagant schemes like that embodied in the paragraph of the Fayetteville paper.

The Forthcoming Message.

The New York Times reviews the circumstances under which the President's message is being prepared, a rough draft of which is reported to have been read in cabinet meeting on Friday last. It is admitted that since the close of the war there is not a shade, even the slightest, of Southern feeling which the President has not probed, so that he could hardly have failed to form an absolutely correct idea of the prevailing spirit and purpose. The following "apprehension" of the Times, it is hoped, will prove correct:

"We have no apprehension that the matured views presented by the President in his message will not commend themselves to the sound judgement of both branches of Congress, and have all the moral effect to which his superior advantages of position will entitle them. It is certain that the loyal millions of the North will greatly defer to them, and will not approve any opposition that is not sustained by the most cogent reasons."

A Letter from Washington.

We are gratified to see the Banner, to make the subjoined extract from a letter written by a Government official, high in position at Washington, to a Federal officer residing in this State. Our condition, as a people who have just emerged from and are still in a great struggle, we fully understand and appreciate; but feared and against which we have it will be seen that this officer predicts that no members elect to Congress will be admitted to seats except such as can take it. This is a result we have the test oath will nor be repealed warned the people, but it remains for the future to disclose whether they or we were right. Here is the extract:

* * * * * *

"I am glad you have found one rebel General who you believe is exerting the right kind of influence in behalf of the Union. I doubt whether they are often to be found, generally they are for the Union with a "but" to it, provided they can dictate terms; they must learn to know that their dictation for the present is at an end, and must submit to our terms. To be plain, they commenced the war, and we whipped them until they were compelled to surrender, and they must now submit to our terms without reserve. This, in most cases, they are not willing to do, although they generally admit that slavery is abolished, or will be every where, yet they will insist in electing men to Congress and other officers who cannot take the required oath, men who claim that they have rights to protect, when they have none whatever. They are a conquered people, and it is our province to dictate to them the course of policy they must pursue. This is the plain english of the matter, and the quicker they submit and comply with what the Government may require, the quicker they will be restored to the government of their own affairs. Let them submit gracefully, and the Government will be liberal, but they must come to our terms. They want the test oath, as they call it, repealed, but that you may be assured will not be done for years to come. I do not believe a single member of Congress from the Southern secession States will be admitted to the present Congress, though a small number of them may be, but they must take the oath or stand aside. It will not do to permit men who have been for the last four years exerting all their powers to destroy this Government, to now come forward and dictate the terms on which they may return to their allegiance."

The Germans in Texas During the War

Their Unswerving Loyalty—Interesting Incidents.

A letter from Texas to the Cincinnati Gazette says:—

"The Germans of Texas—and there are some fifty thousand of them—were loyal to the Union almost to a man. Many were torn away by conscription, many had to accept this office or that to escape conscription, or to support their families; but a German secessionist was a curiosity. The Teutonic phlegm was as Todleben's earthworks to them during the war; a silence more vigorous, an inactivity more masterly, never was known. In a mass the Germans of Texas held themselves, as far as they possibly could, aloof from the whole thing, and—waited.

"What astonished the Germans of Texas on the restoration of the Government, was that American born loyalists manifested so little enthusiasm in comparison to what they themselves felt, forgetting that theirs was the reaction from a more intense reticence. When the Federal army entered Austin, a man was discerned high up on the dome of the Capitol, from whose hands the stars and stripes were given there to the breeze. A German! To escape conscription he had lain for eighteen months in the cellar of his own house, even his nearest neighbors supposing him to be away in the Confederate service. If he did not have a right to vary his position by another on the Capitol's highest pinnacle, flag in hand, I do not know who had the right. Had the case been submitted to me, however, I might have hesitated in favor of another German, who had, for the same excellent reasons, toiled for two years on his little farm, dressed in homespun gown and deep sunbonnet, as his wife's sister come to stay with her from a distance during the absence of her husband in the Confederate army. Heaven bless the Germans! By their devotion to American liberty they were really fighting here the battles of oppressed people in their own Fatherland.

"'The genuine old Teutonic pluck,' sung of by the poet, I understand now better than ever before.

"General Rosecrans has a brother in Texas, or a cousin, I know not which, of the same name, a strong Union man. Generally he maintained his silence under all circumstances. One morning, at the postoffice, he learned, as the latest news, that John Morgan had been incarcerated in the Ohio penitentiary. But what exasperated the crowd there beyond measure was the statement that John's head had been shaved. No words were strong enough to express their wrath. "Oh! I don't know, gentlemen, I dont's know," said Rosecrans, and he never would have dared the remark if he had not been a physician as well as a Union man:—'Head shaved, is it? Well, then, it is in excellent condition to be blistered, you know?' That night, I believe it was, the Doctor ascertained that the best treatment of his own case was to fly from the place. He did, but is now there again in Government employ."

Excitement in Mississippi.—The Jackson "Mississippian" of the 12th has the following:

By a private letter, we learn that immense excitement prevails in Neshoba county, on account of the disappearance of certain persons who had been arrested. Two parties seem to have been formed, one seeking the protection of the Federal authorities, while the other is endeavoring to rid the country of a band of lawless persons who are committing all sorts of depredations. They style the parties "Secession" and "Union."

We learn from a friend just arrived from that vicinity that great excitement prevailed in the neighborhood of Kosciusko last Saturday and Sunday, and that the people generally were organized for any emergency. As we have heard nothing further, we presume matters have quieted down.

The Fayetteville "News" has [illegible] of telegraph in newspaper [illegible] The [illegible] of the [illegible] yet remaining unbent, and in a good [illegible] and to regain and maintain [illegible] the whole line to this place would require a very small outlay of capital, compared to the remuneration which might be confidently anticipated. Every branch of trade would be greatly benefitted and enlivened, and we would have the satisfaction of feeling that that we possessed at least a connecting link with the rest of the world, and that we were not, as in the past, entirely excluded from any participation in the progressive spirit which animates our countrymen.

Before several Military commissions which convened at Lexington, North Carolina, pursuant to special orders, the following cases were disposed of. Henry Broon, charged with theft, two months confinement and hard labor; Leander Alexander, citizen, attempting to corrupt sentinel on duty, to be imprisoned in the jail of Mecklenburg county, North Carolina, for the term of six months, and to pay a fine of one hundred dollars to the Government of the United States, to be paid to the Chief Assistant Quartermaster Department of North Carolina, and in case the fine is not paid before the first day of December, 1865, to be imprisoned for an additional three months longer.

[Gen. Ruger mitigated the sentence to three months.]

James C. Sheenan, of Yancy county, disrespect to a United States officer in discharge of duty, to be imprisoned in the jail of Rowan county, North Carolina, for the term of ten days; Emanuel Baxter, colored, assault with intent to commit rape, acquitted; John W. Gorman, citizen of Cabarrus county, exciting and engaging in riot, to be imprisoned in the jail of Rowan county, North Carolina, or at such other place as the Commanding General shall direct, for the term of thirty days, and to pay a fine of fifty dollars to the United States Government, to be paid to the Chief Assistant Quartermaster, Department of North Carolina, and in case the fine is not paid by the first day of January, 1866, the said John W. Gorman shall be imprisoned an additional sixty days longer; William E. Skinner, larceney, acquitted.

General Ruger says: The proceedings and findings in the cases of William E. Skinner and Emanuel Baxter are approved.—They will be released from arrest.

The proceedings, findings and sentences in the case of James E. Sheenan, are disapproved. His trial on such a charge was entirely without authority, no such officer is known to law. He will be released from arrest.

The proceedings, findings and sentences in the case of John W. Gorman, are approved. The fine is hereby remitted. That portion of the sentence, which directs confinement for thirty days will be executed under direction of the Commanding officer at Salisbury, North Carolina.

The steamship Vixen, Capt. Bolger, a recent addition to the Murray line of steamships between Newbern and New York, arrived at the former place to Messrs. Whitford, Dill & Co., on Sunday night. She brought a full freight list, and the business at the old county wharf was in consequence very lively all the next day.

Robert C. Kehoe has been appointed U. S. Deputy Marshal for the district of Pamlico. This district, we believe, embraces nearly all the State of North Carolina, and Daniel R. Goodloe is the U. S. Marshal.—Mr. Charles Hipbard has received the appointment of Clerk.

An attack of a ferocious character was made upon W. A. Smith at Smithfield, Tuesday. We have not heard the names of the attacking party. One of them fired at him deliberately, with a gun, with but slight effect, however, when Smith, turning upon him, seized the gun and broke it over his head. He then knocked down several others of the attacking party, some of whom he seriously, if not fatally wounded.

Messrs. Poalk & Allen exposed for sale Wednesday, at public auction, the hull, spars, rigging, &c., of the wrecked steamer "Twilight," as she now lies stranded near New Inlet bar. At the same time and place, also, was sold that portion of her cargo which has not been removed, but which now lies in the steamer. The former brought $1175, and the balance of the cargo $750.

Rt. Rev. Pishop Atkinson, of the North Carolina diocese, officiated in Christ Church, Newberne, last Sunday morning and evening. An able discourse was delivered on each occasion, and in the evening the rite of confirmation was celebrated. The church was filled to its utmost capacity with an attentive congregation, and we sincerely hope the visit of the Bishop has been attended with good to that community.

Rumors of an outbreak among the freedmen in the vicinity of Elizabeth City have reached this city, and are calculated to cause uneasiness to some extent in that part of the State. We have information upon which we can rely, that there is no foundation for the rumors about in regard to the matter.—It is right and proper to exercise vigilance to prevent riot and disturbance of all kinds, but exceedingly wrong to give credence to rumors that have no foundation in fact.

General Glisgman, former U. S. [illegible] from North Carolina, is in Washington [illegible] It is said that Mr. Glisgman [illegible] that under the theory that the people of North Carolina never did vote to go out of the Union, and that the ordinance of 20th of May, 1861, never had any effect, he is still United States Senator. We give the report, says the Wilmington "Journal," as we have heard it.

The Legislature

The proceedings of this body, yesterday, presents no feature of special public interest, beyond the selection, on the first ballot, of Hons. R. M. Pearson, W. H. Battle and R. G. Reade as Judges of the Supreme Court of the State. The two first are old members, while the last mentioned gentleman was chosen over Mr. Manly, who formerly occupied a seat on the bench.

The Senate refused to concur in the proposition of the Commons for an election of U. S. Senators, and has not yet reached the question of the Constitutional Amendment, though no question exists as to its prompt passage.

The Message of Gov. Holden, printed elsewhere, is modest, brief and judicious, exhibiting that his sole ambition is to facilitate the adoption of all measures which promise to aid the reception of the State into the full fellowship of the Union.

Restoration in Mississippi.

The following is the text of President Johnson's recent instructions to Governor Humphreys, of Mississippi, a brief abstract of which has been given by the telegraph:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. 1865.

B. G. Humphreys, Governor-elect, Jackson, Mississippi:

The troops will be withdrawn from Mississippi when in the opinion of the Government peace and order and the civil authority has been restored and can be maintained without them. Every step will be taken while they are there to enforce strict discipline and subordination to the civil authority.

There can be no other or greater assurance given than has heretofore been on the part of the President or Government. There is no concession required on the part of the people of Mississippi or the Legislature, other than a loyal compliance with the laws and Constitution of the United States, and the adoption of such measures giving protection to all freedmen or freemen, in person and property, without regard to color, as will entitle them to resume all their constitutional relations to the Federal Union.

The people of Mississippi may feel well assured that there is no disposition arbitrarily on the part of the Government to dictate what action should be had; but on the contrary, to simply and kindly advise a policy that is believed will result in restoring all the relations which should exist between the States composing the Federal Union.

It is hoped that they will feel and appreciate the suggestions herein made—for they are offered in that spirit which should pervade the bosom of all those who desire peace and harmony and a thorough restoration of the Union.

There must be confidence between the Government and the States; while the Government confides in the people, the people must have faith in the Government. This must be mutual and reciprocal, or all that has been done will be thrown away.

ANDREW JOHNSON,
President United States.

—Through the energetic efforts of Detectives F. W. E. Lohman and W. H. Vernon, the false leg which was captured in March, 1864, from Colonel Ulric Dahlgren, who was killed while on his retreat from a raiding expedition near Richmond, has been secured and restored to his friends. The detectives having received information which led them to suspect where the false leg was, proceeded to the house of a Mrs. Carter, in Albermarle county, near Charlottesville, where they found it upon the person of Mr. N. P. Balland, who had been wearing it for some time, he having lost a similar member in one of the battles of the war. Mr. Balland readily gave it up and stated that he had received it as a present from a relative, who had purchased it for him. It will be remembered that a short while since Detective Lohman secured the ring which was upon the little finger of Colonel Dahlgren, that was cut off at the time of his death.

—The World's special says: Documents accompanying the report of the Secretary of the Navy contain a full history of the Naval operations along the Southern coast, with maps, charts, etc. The document will be of great interest. The Secretary's report will be about the same length as last year's. The estimates for the next fiscal year of the Department are [illegible]. The appropriations, of last year, which were very large, will be absorbed by the close of the fiscal year.

[illegible] of Commons' [illegible] illness, [illegible] prevent[illegible] consideration [illegible] of the [illegible] of the Union under the Federal Constitution. I am gratified to state, however, that my health is improving, and I hope soon to be in a condition to [illegible] any inquiries [illegible] to public affairs, which you may desire.

The progress [illegible] made in the work of restoration has been [illegible] by a great labor, and I have been very anxious to discharge my duties as Provisional Governor, under the instructions of the President, in such a way as to promote the best interests of the State, and to insure a restoration of our constitutional relations to the Federal Government at the earliest practicable period.

We can entertain no hope that confidence and activity in business will be revived, or that our people can even begin to renew their former prosperity, until the State shall have been fully restored to her place in the Union. The greatest good of the present and of all coming generations, will be embodied in the practical fact that we are once more a part of the freest, proudest and most prosperous government in the world. As long as this fact is unrealized, the State must necessarily languish in all its interests, and instead of availing herself of her great natural advantages, and springing forward in competition with other States in the career of wealth and prosperity, she will become more and more impoverished.

Let us, then, omit nothing which may be deemed necessary, or even expedient, to attain the great end we have in view, to wit: the complete restoration of the State in all its constitutional relations to the common government. Let the divisions and differences which exist among us, and which are calculated to obstruct the work of reconstruction, disappear under the influence of a more intense and a more devoted patriotism. He who does anything now, whether by word or act, calculated or intended to embarrass the national administration, or to obstruct the work of restoration, incurs a grave responsibility and can be no friend either to the Federal Union or to North Carolina.

The Convention of the people of this State, recently in session, very wisely ordained,

1st. That the so-called ordinance of secession, adopted the 20th day of May, 1861, "is now, and at all times hath been, null and void;" and that "the ordinance of the Convention of the State of North Carolina, ratified on the 21st day of November, 1789, which adopted and ratified the constitution of the United States and also all acts and parts of acts of the General Assembly, ratifying and adopting amendments to the said Constitution are now, and at all times since the adoption and ratification thereof have been in full force and effect."

2d. That "slavery and involuntary servitude, otherwise than for crimes, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall be"—is hereby forever prohibited within the State."

3rd. That it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to provide for the payment of all debts and obligations created or incurred by the State otherwise than in aid of the late rebellion. But that "all debts and obligations created or incurred by the State, in aid of the late rebellion, directly or indirectly, are void, and no General Assembly, of this state shall have power to assume or provide for the payment of the same, or any portion thereof."

These are safe and proper steps in the right direction and such as were expected of the representatives of a loyal people.

But in order to remove the last obstacle in the way of restoration, it is indispensible that the Legislature shall ratify the amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting the existence of slavery throughout the United States. I herewith transmit to you a communication on this subject, from Hon. William H. Seward, Secretary of State, and also a certified copy of the joint resolution which has passed Congress on the subject, approved February 1st, 1865.

I beg leave, gentlemen, most respectfully and earnestly to urge on you the propriety of ratifying this amendment unanimously, at the earliest practicable moment. It is the wish of our best friend, the President of the United States, that this shall be done. Such ratification cannot fail to hasten our restoration to the Union, and thus lay anew for us and our children the foundations of permanent prosperity and glory.

Under the provisions of an ordinance passed by the Convention at its late session, I have appointed the Hon. B. F. Moore, the Hon. Richard S. Donnell, and William S. Mason, Esq., Commissioners to prepare and report to the Legislature a system of laws upon the subject of freedmen, and to designate such laws and parts of laws now in force, as should be repealed, in order to conform the statutes of the State to the ordinance of the Convention abolishing the institution of slavery.

In conclusion, permit me to assure you, gentlemen, of my readiness and anxiety to co-operate with you cordially and zealously in every thing which may be calculated to relieve our unfortunate and beloved State from her present depressed and unhappy condition.

With sentiments of high respect, I have the honor to be, &c.

W. W. HOLDEN,
Provisional Governor.

Postal.—The Philadelphia Press [illegible] The forthcoming report of Postmaster General Dennison, although very [illegible] will be the most satisfactory document [illegible] has emanated from that department since the organization of the Government. The exhibit will, however, be brought down to November 15, and will throw much light upon its present and prospective working in the Southern States. Mr. Dennison has closed contracts on exceedingly favorable terms for transporting the mails for four years over the main leading routes in the South, and does not, as a rule, propose to pay rates or establish routes at the dictation of the North. He begins de novo on the principle of compelling the system to be nearly or quite self-sustaining, [illegible] always has been here. Mr. Dennison has carefully written his own report, [illegible] merely placing his autograph at the end of the consolidated reports of his subordinate officials, as was the custom with many of his predecessors.

Washington College.—General [illegible]—In speaking of the losses of this institution by the war, and its present condition financially, the Staunton "Vindicator" says:

These funds, being mostly in State securities and James river bonds, are now unsalable, and a proportion, over $15,000 in bank stocks, are utterly lost. General Lee [Federal] army, while in Lexington in 1864, destroyed the property of the College to the extent of $17,500, as estimated by a commisson appointed by the Federal officer commanding that post. It is now desired to raise by public contributions the means to sustain the College in its usefulness until its endowments can again be made available, and restore its sacked libraries, its dispersed cabinets, its ruined philosophical apparatus, and its war-blasted walls.

A public-spirited citizen has headed the contributions of Augusta county with a thousand dollar bond.

The Washington Star says the report that Judge Magrath and the rebel Secretary of War, Seddon, have been released from Fort Pulaski, and Gov. Lubbock from Delaware, on their parole, is without foundation, and that there is no probability that either will very soon be set at liberty.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says:

Senior Romero, the Mexican Minister, had a protracted interview with Gen. Grant, in which Mexican affairs were freely discussed. Gen. Grant reiterated to Senior Romero the sentiments he had previously expressed in his speech at New York on that subject.

BURNING OF THE MUSEUM.
LETTER FROM MR P T. BARNUM.
NEW YORK, July 14, 1865.
Messrs. Herring & Co.:
GENTLEMEN: Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.
The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.
After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day, has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safes.
Truly yours,
P. T. BARNUM.

WILLIAM H. CROW, GENERAL AGENT.

Office North of Capitol, Wilmington St, Raleigh.

Facts to be Considered.

There are but few subjects presented to the mind of man upon which there are not a great variety of opinions, and about which there are not protracted discussions. But there are a few facts so well established, and so uncontrovertable that they are universally assented to. One is that all men now living will soon be called upon to gather up their feet and depart to the land of the dead. "One generation goeth, and another cometh, and we have no abiding city here," is a matter about which there is no dispute. Another is, "Of that day, and of that hour, knoweth no man." Whether death cometh at the twelfth hour or at the cock crowing, is of equal uncertainty to all.

Another is that when wife and children gather around us, to take their final leave, in that sad circle centers all our earthly interest The last earthly rational thought of Husband and Father is Wife and Children, (if worthy of sustaining such endearing relations.) Another is, no man living knows what may be the result of his efforts to secure a competence for his family. "Riches take to themselves wings and fly away," has been realized by how many? Adverse winds of to-morrow may take the place of to-day's prosperous gales. Under currents which the most penetrating eye cannot see, or the strongest arm control, may, in an evil hour, sweep away the hard earnings of years. Another is, no man ever has or ever can assume more sacred obligations than Husband and Father. Hence it is said that he that will not provide for his own household is worse than an infidel

Now, what Husband and Father is there battling with the difficulties of life, knowing as he must that uncertainties attend every effort, and wait upon every enterprise, that he has not with earnest voice and anxious heart called to the future to unlock its barred gates and reveal to him the result of this or that undertaking. But the only voice that comes from that land of silence is, "Verily, thou knowest not what shall be on the morrow."

Such are some of the few facts about which there is no controversy, and such are some of the uncertainties that ever have, and ever will, gather around our pathway through life, and which have, in generations past, and will in generations to come, trouble and oppress the Husband and Father.

Now, in view of these facts, responsibilities and uncertainties, it is for you to judge and decide upon the propriety, necessity and duty of making a policy on your life for the benefit of your family. Will it not relieve you of your present anxiety to know that a certain portion of the fruits of your labors are secured to that family? Remember that whatever you pay for a life policy is paid to them. The stranger intermeddleth not with that.

Remember, also, that $5,000, paid to them in that day when the heart and flesh shall fail you, will be more to them than $10,000 while on are here to provide for them. Also remember that the amount for which you are insured will not be diminished in the settling of your estate, and that, from generation to generation, Life Insurance has answered the end for which it was ordained as fully, to say the least, as any institution of man's creation, and that its primary object was, and still is, to secure the family against the stern realities of want, and to relieve from corroding anxiety those who have assumed family responsibilities.

Do you say "I know it would be wise in me to take out a policy and I intend to do so soon; but just now I want to use all my funds in my business." friend, if it is wisdom in you to insure at all, it is folly to defer it, to-morrow is in eternity; therefore "Boast not thyself of to-morrow." "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." "Procrastination is the thief of time."

The Aetna Life Insurance Company offers you all the inducemedts to insure that can be found in any company. Its assets are over a million and a half. It has a surplus of $3,000,000 over and above what is required to re-insure all its policies. Its monthly receipts are over $150,000, and it is issuing monthly nearly 1,000 policies. Its rates for insuring are as reasonable as those of any other well-established, responsible Company. It is paying as large dividends to its policy-holders as any other Company. Its officers are competent business men. Its assets are as permanently and as safely invested as any other company can invest theirs, and from which as good interest is being received. It pays its losses as promptly, is as particular in the character of its risks and as yet a stranger to litigation.
